

“The result has exceeded all my expectations by far.”

The freedom to be able to see clearly without a visual aid is very difficult to describe in brief.

Due to a very strong defective vision it was nearly impossible for me to move without glasses or contact lenses. First thing in the morning was to find my glasses. The last thing in the evening was to take them off. When practising winter and aquatic sports the glasses were of great handicap, and in ball sports they even represented an increased injury risk. Because I had rather dry eyes I could wear contact lenses only outdoors, but not indoors.

To get myself prepared for the surgery I visited several information events in various clinics. After that I fixed appointments for preliminary examinations in two different clinics. At LASER VISTA I felt best. Here I was given realistic information and no illusive promises. Questions were taken seriously and answered satisfactorily. And above all I was at no time pushed towards a decision or agreement.

The near-sightedness and the astigmatism were totally corrected. Expected side effects, such as dry and burning eyes or halo effects failed to appear.

The feeling when getting up, in the water, in the mountains, to always be able to see clearly at any time is an enormous increase of the life quality (at least physically). One could think that since the nursery school I have put up with wearing glasses. Only now, after the surgery I have realised that the ability to see clearly means more than just the absence of the handicap caused by some glasses.

At any time I would re-decide in favour of a surgery.

Name: Patrik Weiss

Profession: Computer scientist

Age: 34

Hobbies: Camping, bicycling, diving, snowboarding